

A Woman's Rights and Responsibilities in Islam	A Man's Rights and Responsibilities in Islam
A woman has no financial responsibilities and Islam doesn't impose any restriction on a woman to work	A man is required to earn and support family
A woman has no responsibility to protect husband or family or to participate in war	A man is responsible to protect woman and family and participate in war
A mother has a greater honor and respect than father	Father has lesser honor and respect than mother
Islam recommends half the share of inheritance for a woman than a man unless a will specifies otherwise	Islam recommends twice the share of inheritance for a man than a woman unless a will specifies otherwise
A woman is required to cover two areas of body	A man is required to cover one area of body
Upon death of husband, the wife gets 4 months and 10 days worth of living expenses	Upon death of husband, the wife is paid 4 months and 10 days worth of living expenses
A woman receives expenses related to taking care of children	A man pays expenses related to taking care of children
A wife gets full amount of Mehr-Mukadam immediately upon marriage as agreed in marriage contract	A husband pays full amount of Mehr-Mukadam immediately upon marriage as agreed in marriage contract
A wife gets full amount of Mehr-Muakhar as agreed in marriage contract or any amendments thereafter, anytime during marriage or at divorce, but does not receive half of everything by default upon divorce	A husband pays full amount of Mehr-Muakhar as agreed in marriage contract or any amendments thereafter, anytime during marriage or at divorce, but does not pay half of everything by default upon divorce
There is no mention if a wife can or can't beat a husband in case of insurrection to avoid divorce	A husband can mildly beat a wife in case of insurrection as a last resort only to avoid divorce
Only in financial disputes, two female witnesses are required against one male witness	Only in financial disputes, one male witness is required against two female witnesses
Islam doesn't put any responsibility of cooking, cleaning or taking care of children upon a wife.	Islam doesn't put any responsibility of cooking, cleaning or taking care of children upon a husband